Other Information: The Department of Geography at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for an Assistant Professor appointment in Global Urbanism. We seek a dynamic scholar who will make significant theoretical and empirical contributions to the sub-field of urban geography. We particularly welcome candidates whose research and teaching focus on cities of the global south, and who will enrich and complement existing Department strengths in urban geography, critical race theory, health geographies, spatial science, and political ecology. Research and classroom teaching interests might include, but are not limited to, how global urbanism intersects with debates over globalization, migration, new trade regimes, planetary gentrification, and green urbanization. Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff.

We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should thus state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Application Deadline: October 15, 2019
