

WAYNE STATE
African American Studies

Submitter Institution: Wayne State University

Submitter Phone: 313-577-2187

Department: African American Studies

Position Title: Lecturer

Qualifications: The Department of African American Studies at Wayne State University invites applications for a full-time renewable Lecturer position beginning January 6, 2020. A Master's degree in African American Studies or a related field is required. All candidates must have experience in teaching African American Studies. The Lecturer will teach a 3-2 load of courses during the academic year, joining a cohort of full-time and part-time teaching faculty. The Lecturer will also be a leader in the department's programs related to academic success, recruitment, and community engagement. More information about the department may be found on our website: <https://clas.wayne.edu/afamstudies>

Application Procedures: To apply for the position, applicants should go to https://jobs.wayne.edu/applicants/jsp/shared/position/JobDetails_css.jsp?postingId=557582 and upload the following: letter of application, CV, contact information for three references, and a 1-2 page teaching philosophy statement (please upload this under the category "Other" in the application program). Priority consideration will be given to completed applications as they are received. Questions about this position may be directed to Ollie Johnson, Chair, African American Studies, at ojohnson@wayne.edu or 313-577-2321.

Other Information: Wayne State University offers more than 340 academic programs through 13 schools and colleges to nearly 28,000 students in metropolitan Detroit. Candidates from underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Wayne State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Application Deadline: Until Suitable Candidate is Found

Do not post after: January 6, 2020