

Submitter Institution: University of Wisconsin-Madison

Submitter Phone: (608) 263-2332

Department: Afro-American Studies

Position Title: Assistant Professor in Afro-American Studies

Institution is Seeking: The Department of Afro-American Studies is seeking an Assistant Professor in the Social Sciences (Sociology, Psychology, or Anthropology preferred field, specialization open). This Assistant Professor position will be a tenure-track position and will be responsible for teaching introductory survey courses and advanced courses related to the area of specialization; conducting scholarly research; and performing University and community service as appropriate.

Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. by the start of the appointment in Social Sciences (Sociology, Psychology, Anthropology preferred field, specialization open). Must demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching and scholarly research.

Application Procedures: Find the position announcement at jobs.wisc.edu (PVL 244337), click on "Apply Now" and submit the following 4 documents: 1) a cover letter describing research, teaching experience and teaching philosophy; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) official graduate transcript; and 4) a writing sample. If the sample is part of a larger project (e.g. book, dissertation), please include a description of the larger project. In addition, you will be asked to provide contact information for three references: they will each receive an electronic link through which they can upload a signed letter of reference.

Other Information: The deadline for assuring full consideration is January 18, 2022; however the position will remain open and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Application Deadline: January 18, 2022

Do not post after: January 18, 2022