

Submitter Institution: SUNY Brockport College

Submitter Phone: 585-395-5526

Department: Education and Human Development/ African and African American Studies

Position Title: Assistant Professor

Institution is Seeking: SUNY Brockport is accepting applications for a full time, 10-month, tenure track Assistant Professor in the Department of Education & Human Development. We seek scholars whose teaching and research combine social studies education and African and African American studies by centering African and African American perspectives, experiences, and histories in social studies education. This position includes teaching social studies methods courses in the Education and Human Development department, relevant courses in the African and African American Studies department, and cross-listed courses for both departments. We are interested in scholars who work in the interdisciplinary field of African and African American Studies to prepare social studies teachers by theorizing and teaching strands of social studies education (ex. civics, economics, global and American history, geography, sociology, psychology, and/or other relevant areas) through theories of Africana education and pedagogy, Black critical theory, and/or critical pedagogic theories.

Qualifications: Minimum Qualifications:

- Terminal degree in education, African and African American studies or a closely related field must be completed within six months of hire from a college or university accredited by the U.S. Department of Education or an internationally recognized college or university.
- Proficiency with learning management systems and instructional technologies.
- Excellent written and interpersonal communication skills.
- Successful K-12 teaching experience.
- Ability to work effectively with students, public, college community and external constituencies, with an appreciation for cultural and group differences. Preferred Qualifications:

- Evidence of collaborative teaching and planning.
- Background in additional areas of expertise that support the Education and Human Development and African and African American Studies departments.
- College teaching and advising experience.
- Evidence of successful scholarship.

Application

Procedures:

Visit: jobs.hr.brockport.edu to complete an application including your letter of application that addresses required and preferred qualifications, resume/CV, and contact information for three professional references.

Other Information:

Work Schedule: Monday - Friday, 8am - 4pm Salary and Benefits: Minimum Salary is $59,550. May be benefits eligible; more information at Careers@Brockport. Background Investigation Statement: All applicants are subject to a pre-employment background check.

Application Deadline: February 4, 2022

Do not post after: May 18, 2022