Department: Africana Studies

Position Title: Assistant Professor Tenure Track

Institution is Seeking: The Africana Studies Program in the School of Africana and Multicultural Studies is accepting applications for one position at the rank of Assistant Professor. This position is a 9-month, continuing, tenure track appointment. The Africana Studies Program is interested in complimenting its existing focus on intersectional and interdisciplinary research/scholarship and teaching and in building its strengths in the quantitative social sciences. The College of Liberal Arts' broad goal in this search is to impact multiple scholarly domains as outlined here. Duties and Responsibilities: Teach undergraduate and graduate courses; mentor undergraduate and graduate students; maintain an active program of peer-reviewed research/scholarship; contribute to curriculum development and other forms of service in the Africana Studies Program and in the affiliated academic department. The selected individual will contribute to the curriculum in Africana Studies as well as that of the affiliated program, recruit and mentor students interested in Africana Studies, and develop a strong program of individual scholarship.

Qualifications: Minimum Qualifications: Doctoral degree in Africana Studies or a related discipline is required. Specialization in the study of two or more regions of the African diaspora is required. The ability to teach at least one class quantitative methods in Africana Studies is also required. ABD applicants may be considered if all doctoral degree requirements will be completed by August 15, 2023. If all requirements for the Doctorate are not completed by that date, a non-tenure track appointment at a reduced rate of pay may be offered, per university policy
