

Teaching Assistant Professor of English

Lehigh University. The Department of English invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor, effective February 2023.

Qualifications: Ph.D. or other terminal degree in English or related fields awarded by date of hire and at least five years' experience teaching composition courses at the college level.

The successful candidate will teach in and contribute to the administration of our intellectually lively, rhetorically grounded First-Year Writing Program. The Teaching Assistant Professorship is a full-time, non-tenure track position. These positions are renewable with a career path to promotion. All first-year students at Lehigh take at least one course in composition; class size is typically 19 or below.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for nearly 7,000 students. Lehigh University has some 5,000 undergraduates, 2,000 graduate students, and about 550 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA., a vibrant and historic area. Over 820,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin March 6, 2023. For full consideration, applications should be received online by March 13, 2023. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/24411>.

Candidates should submit the following materials:

1. Cover letter that includes a section on how the candidate would contribute to a diverse and inclusive environment in the First-Year Writing classroom,
2. Curriculum vitae,
3. Statement of teaching philosophy,
4. Two letters of recommendation,
5. Evidence of excellence in teaching (no more than 5 pages). Any inquiries regarding this search should be directed to Prof. Brooke Rollins, Chair of the Search Committee at brr214@lehigh.edu.
